Each year in New Orleans, hurricane season lasts from June to November.

Tropical weather begins with a low-pressure area of circling winds over water. A system can develop into a tropical depression, tropical storm, or a hurricane. Dangers include high winds, heavy rain, tornadoes, flooding, and power outages, which means you should insure your property for both wind and flood damage.

You’re probably no stranger to these storms. Still, it’s important to make a plan with your family in case a storm comes our way. This guide offers the basics.

There are extra things to consider during an emergency for seniors, young children, people with medical needs, and pet owners. Find more information on ready.nola.gov. Call 311 to sign up for the special needs registry if you are elderly or have medical or mobility needs.

Helping you stay ready year round,
THE TEAM AT NOLA READY
Depending on a storm’s severity, a mandatory evacuation might be ordered. If an evacuation is not ordered, it’s up to you to decide to evacuate or shelter in place. If the City of New Orleans issues a mandatory evacuation, all residents and visitors must leave.
